The Missing Miss.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—No trace can be found of Vera Ava, alleged to be a wealthy English woman who came here some weeks ago to work for the reclamation of fallen women, and who suddenly disappeared on Wednesday evening.

Concerning her identification an afternoon paper says: "Vera Ava is, it is now asserted, none other than Anne Odella Diss Debar, the spook priestess of New York. She was seen on the street and recognized by a New York newspaper woman, who called upon the Chief of Detectives this morning and told him of her discovery. Her description of Anne Odella tallies exactly with that of Miss Ava. According to the New York lady the notorious spiritualist carries a stock of wigs and other make-ups, and has of late been traveling across the country swindling gullible church people."

The police have no doubt from the statements furnished by the New York lady that Miss Ava is Miss Diss Debar. This opinion is strengthened by information gleaned from other sources.

It is discovered that the woman who answers Miss Ava's description called at one of the medical colleges yesterday. If this is she, it proves that she did not make away with herself Wednesday night. On the day of her disappearance when it is alleged Miss Ava had the interview with Archbishop Feehan, she gave Mrs. Bolton, with whom she drove to the Archbishop's residence, to understand that she was going to see about getting some property which is in possession of the Catholic Church in England.

It appears she also called on Archbishop Feehan yesterday. The cabman who drove her there to-day identified Miss Ava's picture as that of the woman in question. He said after she entered the carriage he saw her take off a blonde wig and arrange her hair.

The police have become convinced that the woman is merely in hiding and the detectives detailed on the case have been withdrawn.

About a week ago she visited Saddle, the British Consul here, and under a seal of secrecy, told him a remarkable and mystifying story, as Saddle confesses, but he declines to give the tenor of it. She was very captivating with a full blonde wig, frizzed and banded, and she told Mr. Saddle she had lived in Chicago for ten years, whereas she had not been here as many weeks.

Saddle says he does not believe her to be an English woman. She spoke with a French accent and spoke French like a native.

New York, Sept. 11.—Diligent inquiry here failed to bring to light any trace of Miss DeDarr, the "High Priestess of Spookdom."

Steamship Collision.

ATHENS, Sept. 11.—A collision has taken place off Cape Colonna between the Italian steamship Taormina, of the Italian Messageries Company and the Greek steamship Thessalia. The Taormina sank soon after the accident, drowning her Captain, several of her crew and forty cabin passengers. The second officer of the Taormina and a number of passengers standing on the bridge at the time of the collision were saved by boats from the Thessalia.

Inquest Postponed.

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.
DAVISVILLE (Cal.), Sept. 11.—The inquest on the postal clerk, Quimby, who was killed in the railroad accident of August 31st, is postponed to September 19th.

Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—There was a big break in wheat at the opening this morning in comparison with yesterday's closing. The chief cause was the government crop report issued yesterday afternoon, which showed improvement in the condition of wheat. Lower cables were also a factor in the decline. December opened at 95 3/4 against 97 3/4 at the close of yesterday and broke immediately to 95 1/4. Heavy buying orders from outside sources soon forced the price up to 97, and at 11 o'clock it had dropped off 1/4 from that. Corn was affected the same as wheat, opening off 1 3/4 at 55 1/4. It grew strong with wheat and advanced to 56 3/4, but sagged off again and touched 55 3/4. At a meeting of the Directors of the Board of Trade yesterday, arrangements were completed by which telegraphic service will be restored to the floor of the exchange. The price of messages will also go back to the old standard.

Wheat made a sudden jump after the noon hour, rising to 98 3/4 for December. From there it declined to 98 1/4, closing at 98 1/4 @ 98 1/4.

The Times' Opinion.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Times refers this morning to the Associated Press letter treating of the effect of the new American tariff as most interesting, and comments upon it at length.

The Times says: "The McKinley law injured and dislocated some European industries to an extent entirely uncompensated by any corresponding advantage to the American consumer. Americans are too skeptical of the stability of the McKinley law to embark in new industries. The tin plate case puts the matter in a nutshell."

Pacific Short Line.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Another claim was presented in court here today against the Manhattan Trust Company in connection with the Pacific Short Line Railroad. The plaintiff is Samuel T. Davis of Sioux City, Iowa, who claims damages to the extent of $10,000 in connection with the hypothecation of bonds of the railroad company.

No Apology by the Porte.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 11.—The Porte has neither abjectly apologized to the Russian Ambassador, Nelidoff, nor paid any indemnity for the detention of the Russian vessel Moskow. The Porte has merely given an assurance against a recurrence of such incidents.

Rangers Pursuing Robbers.

SAN ANTONIO (Texas), Sept. 11.—Rangers are in close pursuit of the Southern Pacific train robbers and may come upon them at any time. There are eight robbers and fifteen rangers, and when the two parties meet there is likely to be a bloody fight.

Grain Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Wheat, buyer '91, $1.08 1/2; season, $1.78 1/2.

RAILROAD RUNAWAY.

Cars Let Loose Go Down Hill With Fearful Velocity.

The Virginia Chronicle says that on Wednesday night four wood or flat cars, chained on the V. & T. switch near the Chollar waste dump, were let loose by some miscreant or broke away from their fastenings and went tearing down the sidetrack at a terrible speed, through the Chollar and Taylor street tunnels, past the west of the C. & C. shaft, and out on the Union trestle, just south of the graveyard. Three of the runaways were heavily loaded with gravel, and the momentum attained in transit was terrific. Midway on the trestle, 50 feet high, standing on the track, were four empty wood cars. When the runaways struck the impediment in their path there was a frightful upheaval. The cars were all broken into kindling wood and scrap iron, and the damage and loss amounts to about $2,000.

ODD FELLOWS' TEMPLE.

In Chicago Will Be 34 Stories in Height.

Plans for the Odd Fellows' Temple to be erected in Chicago have been prepared. They provide for a building as high as the Washington monument. The entire ground space is to be built up to the height of fourteen stories. Above this the building is to extend six stories in the form of a square cross, the four spaces at the angle of the main building being left vacant. Above this is to be a tower-shaped structure fourteen stories high, making thirty-four stories altogether, with an aggregate height of 556 feet. The estimated cost is $3,500,000. The ground space covered is to be 177 by 233 feet.

Delegates.

At a meeting of the State Board of Trade held today the following gentlemen were elected delegates to the Salt Lake Irrigation Convention, to meet September 15th, 16th and 17th: W. O. H. Martin, A. H. Manning, C. C. Powling, C. T. Bender and Allen C. Bragg.

POLITICAL HONORS.

Miller For Circuit
Judge.

WALLACE SECRETARY OF WAR.

Noble, For the Department of Justice.

Clarkson For Secretary of the Interior.

Opposing Sub-Treasury Schemes.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11.—U. S. Hall, ex-President of the Farmers' Alliance, is in this city perfecting arrangements for holding a national anti-sub-treasury and anti-third party convention which will meet here Tuesday, September 15th. In reference to this meeting Hall said: "As far as I am informed the approaching convention will not only be a grand success but the largest representative gathering of farmers ever had in this country. No one will be admitted to a seat as a delegate who is not opposed to the sub-treasury and land loan schemes and other like measures of class legislation." Hall said further: "That he was determined to keep up the fight until the farmers of this country have been fully advised as to the folly of all such legislation."

Suicide of Stokes.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—About 8 o'clock this morning the janitor of the Hachlin building discovered the dead body of Charles M. Stokes, a well known stock broker, lying on the floor of his office. There was a bullet hole through the dead man's head, and beside the body lay a revolver with one chamber discharged. The case was evidently one of suicide. No one has been found who saw Stokes alive later than 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It is thought the deed of self destruction was committed about that time. Stokes was about 60 years of age and one of the best known stock brokers of this city. He was a member of the firm of J. G. Walmough & Co. The dead man leaves a wife and six children.

Toasting the Meters.

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—A grand banquet, in honor of the delegates to the International Electrical Convention now in session in this city, was given last night. It was a great success, nearly five hundred guests being present. The Queen, President of the United States and the Governor-General of Canada were toasted. Lord Stanley made the speech of the evening. He welcomed the delegates to Canada in behalf of the government, and expressed the hope that the flag of the United States and that of England and the Dominion would long float side by side in amicable unity. He trusted this gathering would be the forerunner of many others.

Trades Union.

NEW CASTLE, Sept. 11.—At this morning's session the Trades Union Congress delegates approved a motion to the effect that actual workmen and women should be appointed inspectors of factories and working places generally. A motion to instruct the Parliamentary committee to press the passage of an eight-hour law at least so far as it concerned workmen employed in mines was carried. It was decided to hold the next Congress at Glasgow.

Another Bank Failure.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Milford Michigan dispatches say the Milford State Bank has failed. The announcement was unexpected. The statement is authorized that the bank will go into the hands of a receiver, who will be appointed in a few days. The amount of the liabilities cannot be learned definitely. Unprofitable investments and poorly secured loans are said to be the cause of the difficulty.

Political Honors.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Specials from Washington state that Attorney General Miller is to be appointed to one of the Circuit Court judgeships created by the last Congress; that General Lew Wallace will be made Secretary of War, that Noble may be transferred to the Department of Justice, and General Clarkson appointed Secretary of the Interior.

Dead Struck.

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—William H. Colley, aged 19, a colored student at Harvard Medical school, last night shot and killed himself because his father objected to the young lady he was paying attentions to.

An Actor in Jail.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—M. B. Curtis, "Sam'l of Posen," was visited by a large number of friends at the city prison this morning. He adheres to his former statement and declares that Policeman Grant was shot and killed by some outsider and that he himself is innocent. His attorneys, George A. Knight and H. I. Kowalsky, claim the evidence against him is wholly circumstantial and that a number of witnesses intimate with Curtis will testify they never knew him to go armed.

Curtis was taken before Judge Worley to-day, and at the request of his counsel, his case went over until Monday, pending an inquest on the officer's remains, which will be held late this afternoon or to-morrow. Curtis appeared nervous while in the court room, which was crowded with spectators.

DETROIT, Sept. 11.—The comedian, "Samuel of Posen," charged with murdering an officer in San Francisco last night, was a Detroit boy. His name is Maurice Bertrand Steller and he was born here about 40 years ago. After leaving school he worked in a tobacco store three or four years as shipping clerk. He went to Chicago afterwards and took to the stage. At first he was employed in a stock company at McVicker's theater. Then he graduated from the stock company and played three seasons with Maggie Mitchell and three with Lawrence Barrett, always in comedy roles. With this experience and the peculiarly funny play, "Sam'l of Posen," he felt justified in embarking upon the stage on his own account. The play was successful and he made money so rapidly that he was enabled to retire rich four years ago.

William Kreling, manager and one of the proprietors of the Tivoli, who was one of the last of Curtis' friends who saw him before the murder of officer Grant, said this morning: "Curtis came to the Tivoli shortly after 10 o'clock last night. He said that he had come over with his wife and some folks to see Bernhardt, but after witnessing some of the performance, had become tired and concluded to visit our place. He also said he left his wife at the Grand Opera House and intended to call for her and take her home after the show. When Curtis came down stairs to the saloon to see me, there were two Frenchmen and a man named Lockhardt in the saloon. We had several drinks, and Curtis and all the others of the party were in good spirits. After the performance Curtis remained here drinking and talking until about 11:15 o'clock, when he remarked it was time to go down to the Grand Opera House to escort his wife home. The fact of the matter is that if Curtis took one drink he got perfectly crazy."

"Did Curtis exhibit a pistol or give any evidence of having one in his possession while he was at the Tivoli?"

"No he did not and there was no occasion for such a subject to be mentioned. He seemed to be perfectly contented with life and its surroundings and had no complaints to make."

The police department is greatly worked up over the shooting and Captain Lees was on hand early this morning. He detailed detectives to go out upon the case instructing them to pay attention to the minutest details and find out the last point at which Grant arrested Curtis. When asked his opinion of the shooting the head of the detective force replied: "Well, I think it was a cold blooded murder. I think that Grant arrested him because he was drunk and disorderly. He went along quiet enough until he got to Folsom street, where he thought he could kill the policeman and effect his escape."

Alexander Grant, the dead officer, was born in Nova Scotia 40 years ago and came to California about 17 years ago and began work at the carpenter trade. Shortly after his arrival the mining excitement broke out in Bodie district, and Grant was one of the people attracted to the bonanza district. He secured very lucrative employment as head carpenter at the Standard mine and worked at the Standard for seven years, when his health failed him. He then came to this city, was a member of Golden Gate Chapel of the order of Eastern Star and also of the California-Commandery of Royal Arch Masons and will be buried under the auspices of that order.

Suit Against Seipp.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Suit was begun to-day by County Attorney Walker against Wm. C. Seipp, ex-County Treasurer and his bondsmen, to recover $300,000 interest, which it is alleged Seipp received on money of the county during his term of office, and which he had not accounted for.

Weather Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Forecast, fair weather.

Fire at Martinez.

MARTINEZ (Cal.), Sept. 11.—A fire broke out this morning in a barn belonging to Mrs. Hannaberry. The barn, which was filled with hay, was completely destroyed. The fire spread rapidly to the barn of D. Brady, burning it to the ground. In the barns of Mrs. Hannaberry were stored about twenty tons of hay and in Mr. Brady's ten tons, all of which was burned. Mrs. Hannaberry's loss is estimated at $500; insurance, $300. Brady's loss was $300; insurance $300. There being no wind at the time, the town was saved from a serious conflagration, as the water supply is very small. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a tramp.

Suicide and Small-Pox.

DETROIT, Sept. 11.—Captain Frederick S. Dodge, a retired army officer, who has been damaged for some years past, committed suicide last night at his residence by shooting himself through the head.

There is a case of small-pox in the Polish quarter, the child of a laborer named Grendzinski being ill with the disease. The father threatens to fight if the child is removed to the pest house. If the epidemic should start in the fifth Polish quarter there is no telling how extensive its ravages would be.

A Brakeman's Peril.

WHEATLAND (Cal.), Sept. 11.—A brakeman on the south bound Oregon Express which passed through here at two o'clock this morning, was knocked off the train by a tramp who was trying to dislodge from a Blind Baggage. The train continued on to Lincoln before they discovered the absence of the brakeman. The engine ran back for him, and the brakeman was found not seriously hurt.

A Treasure in Trouble.

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.), Sept. 11.—President Coleman, of the Catholic Knights of America, is here investigating the accounts of M. J. O'Brien, Treasurer of the order. O'Brien is out of the city. Thus far it appears there is a deficiency of $30,000, which in the absence of O'Brien is unexplained.

Killed by a Car.

LEBANON (Pa.) Sept. 11.—At the Cornwall ore banks yesterday a car heavily loaded with ore fell from a trestle over a ravine among a number of men at work below. One man was instantly killed, an Italian fatally injured and several hurt.

Killed by Falling Walls.

ALBANY (N. Y.), Sept. 11.—This morning a large factory and carpenter shop was burned. The falling walls killed one fireman and injured several others. The loss to the building is $45,000; insured for half the amount.

Heavy Crops.

GRAND FORKS, Sept. 11.—The Herald crop reports from correspondents at fifty different points in the State indicate the yield of wheat is underestimated. They agree that the yield is unprecedented and of high grade.

Singular Death.

BETHLEHEM (Pa.), Sept. 11.—Cornelius Reagan, an Irish worker, hiccoughed himself to death. He began hiccoughing six weeks ago and has fasted ever since for relief. The attack was caused by hernia.

The Emperor of Germany and the Regent of Bavaria, Prince Luitpold, started this morning from Munich for the scene of the Bavarian army maneuvers.

The Attorney General at Washington said this afternoon that an agreement had been reached between himself and counsel representing the steamer Itata, postponing the trial which was set for the 15th to the 25th inst.

In order to present to the world what Nevada is capable of doing in an agricultural way, the GAZETTE will arrange anything sent to it, in an attractive manner at the Pavilion during Fair week. Apples and other fruit, grain of all kinds, potatoes of different varieties, vegetables of every description, hay, etc., will be arranged, due credit given, and everything necessary to make an attractive display, carried out. We make this offer in order to enable those who cannot come to the Fair to send something; and again a farmer who cannot afford the time, for instance, of preparing but one box of apples for exhibition would hesitate about putting it in alone, when, if exhibited in a State collection, it would show off to better advantage. Parties sending in any article can rest assured of having it properly entered, and if awarded a premium the same will be forwarded to them as soon as collected. Exhibits are respectfully solicited, not only from the farmers in Nevada, but from those in Lassen, Modoc, Sierra and Plumas counties, California. All who wish to avail themselves of our offer should carefully mark their names on the articles sent and write the GAZETTE that such and such a thing had been sent for exhibition. It will save us lots of trouble by sending the truck for exhibition the week before Fair.

ANYONE intending to make an exhibit of cattle, horses, sheep or other live stock at the coming State Fair will greatly oblige the GAZETTE by sending a full description of each animal they intend to exhibit, what class entered in and any other information that will be of interest to the public. It will assist us greatly in writing up the Fair and avoid mistakes.

SEVERAL months ago the town had a big conflagration and much valuable property was swept out of existence. It being the second or third time the city had been partially destroyed by fire, the citizens, in the business center, came to the conclusion that something should be done to guard against a similar experience and a public meeting was called at Armory Hall to discuss the question. After fully considering and debating the subject both pro and con, it was decided to ask the County Commissioners to pass an ordinance establishing a fire limit that would prevent any one from endangering other property by moving or building any wooden structure or old rookery within said limit, and an ordinance was duly passed. At the August meeting of the Board of Commissioners, J. M. McCormack, who owned a little shanty on the east side of Virginia street, petitioned the Board for the privilege of moving it to the vacant lot lately occupied by the Baptist Church on Second street. Commissioner Hyman was appointed a committee to interview the property owners in the vicinity and requested to report; in fact the matter was left entirely in his hands to settle. He reported at the meeting, held the other day, adversely, saying he had interviewed all the property owners and found them one and all against the moving of any wooden building on to the lot in question, and it was supposed that if McCormack wanted to occupy the lot he would comply with the ordinance and build a brick building. But yesterday he hitched three horses to his little shanty and in less than twenty minutes had the shanty moved. The Commissioners are going to have McCormack arrested for violating a city ordinance and test the question. If that ordinance won't stand the test, or we have no town government, what is the good of paying taxes to maintain one? The question had better be tested now, so that everybody can have a fair show and build wooden buildings if they want to. If we have no town government, and can't pass an ordinance that will hold water, the sooner it is found out the better.

THE GAZETTE tells what the bosses are doing in the way of fixing a ticket for the dear people to support next year, and then apologizes for acting unkind in giving family secrets away.

The GAZETTE tells nothing of the kind, but if it did the Journal, who is "boss" crazy, should credit it something suited to its own taste to howl about. It has been talking about "bosses" ever since the 1st of January last, in a sort of back-action way to the Virginia Chronicle and has deceived itself so long that it begins to believe it. We said just enough about Wallace, the man who the Journal always claimed to be the "C. P. Boss," to give it the cue, but we did not expect that worthy paper, fighting in an indirect way for Cleveland and his free-trade and silver ideas, to jump onto us so savagely, but if the Journal will let up we promise not to be guilty of the like again. If the Republican party would divide their so-called "bosses" with the Democrats the Journal would be the last paper in the State to do any growling. The Journal would swallow anything and everything to get its party into power or get itself. That was exemplified during the last campaign.

MEN DESTROYERS IN INDIA.

Killing a Wild Beast Which Was the Talk of India Newspapers.

It is well known that about twenty-five thousand people a year fall a prey to the wild beasts of India. The larger part of these victims are killed by tigers and venomous snakes which are met in the jungle. As a rule, says the Chicago Herald, the victims of these tragedies are guilty of great carelessness. With care the danger of wild beasts might, in the majority of these cases, be averted.

An animal which has for some months been written about a great deal in the Indian newspapers has at last succumbed, having met his well-deserved fate on June 7. He proved to be a full grown leopard, probably about four years old. He had lurked around the villages in the edge of the jungle for months watching for his prey, and at least fifteen people were killed by him, including several adults as well as children. It was hard work to kill him, and he hurt three people badly before he was incapacitated for further harm. This is the way he met his fate:

He had been hovering round a camp of Bushahiri during the night of June 5, but was kept off by five large sheep dogs. In the morning of the 7th a woman saw him in some long grass near the bungalow, and taking him for a large jungle cat after the fowls ran after him. He charged her, striking her on the chest, and seized her by the arm. She struck him over the head with a heavy stick, and other people coming up, the leopard let go and ran into a garden near the bungalow. The woman was found to have two claw wounds on her chest and six deep bites on her left arm.

By this time some twenty persons had assembled, and went into the garden in search of the beast. A syce in the service of the assistant commissioner declared he believed it was only a jackal, but the words were hardly out of his mouth when the leopard, which had been hiding under a stone, charged straight at the syce with a roar, knocking him down and wounding him badly. He was badly clawed on both arms, behind the right ear, and bitten on the scalp, and would certainly have been killed had not a man named Nadim run in and driven a hog spear clean through the leopard's body. The brute left the syce, and tried to work itself up the shaft of the spear to get at his new assailant, but it only succeeded in tearing his clothes, Nadim escaping unhurt. A mistri ran in to club it, but got clawed on the chin for his pains, Nadim holding on his spear all the time. By this time the others, who had bolted when the leopard charged, returned, and the leopard was clubbed to death.

THE GLASS IN USE.

An Enormous Showing for That Industry in the United States.

What a lot of glass there is in the world when one comes to think of it. Some slight idea of the vastness of the amount of glass used for windows and mirrors may be obtained, says the Buffalo Commercial, when it is stated that for several years past the sum of money annually paid in premiums for insurance has reached close upon $700,000, a sum representing glass to the actual value of $23,000,000.

Nor does this by any means include the whole of the glass thus used, for assuredly there are many people who do not insure at all, and some who only do so partially. In a large hotel now building in New York city there will be 3,000 sashes, each about four feet square, without counting the large windows on the ground floor.

A still better idea of the quantity of glass used throughout the United States may be obtained from the estimates that during the coming year there will be manufactured and imported some 89,500,000 square feet of plate, mirror and sheet glass. In detail 12,000,000 square feet of plate; 40,000,000 square feet of window or sheet glass; 4,000,000 square feet of mirrors and 3,000,000 square feet of colored, ceiling, floor and roofing glass.

This is all to be manufactured in the United States. Then there are orders in hand abroad for importation into America amounting to 2,500,000 square feet of mirror glass, 23,000,000 square feet of window glass, and 800,000 square feet of colored, ceiling and roofing glass.

JOTTINGS.

"Thin that uses water," remarked the plumber's assistant, "must pay the piper." Order ice of J. F. Alkin. Speaking of a man of letters, what the matter with the postman's? Books and stationery at Thurston's, with the latest magazines and pictorials.

And what do you think of the singer, Frankie? Oh, it is perfectly grand. I've heard many a belladonna, but never one like her. Beer only 5 cents a glass at Jake Becker's.

An Article for Sale—Watchmaker—What is the most essential feature of a cheap watch? Bright appearance, its resemblance of a costly one. Watches of gold and silver and finest works at Richard Herz's.

An observer of events sends word that when he rose from his bed this morning it was the last rose of summer. Fall millinery of the latest styles at Miss Gibbs', felt hats and trimmings of novel kinds, including feathers, tips and ribbons and sails or mules-ears ornaments.

"Now," said the chipper young woman to Brushwell, "you are an artist and I want you to tell me whether the ornamental frosting on a cake wouldn't be called 'frosting'?" "It would at any rate," replied Brushwell, "come under the head of interior decorations. For good fare board at the Riverside hotel.

Mr. J. R. Sheppard, manager of the Paris Co-operative Mercantile Institution, Paris, Idaho, says that for colic produced by change of drinking water, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is without an equal. It is quick and effectual and leaves no bad results. For sale by J. B. McCullough.

Amplemen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite lost, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of 8 years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Specker, Catawba, O., had for a long time sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at W. P. Pinniger's drug store.

Things Worth Remembering.

When you feel a kind of goodness about the stomach it is a sign that your food does not sit well and that you are about to have a fit of indigestion.

When you begin to feel nervous and are unable to sit still comfortably; when your clothes suddenly seem to lose their fit and become so tight in places the fit of indigestion is surely upon you.

When this fit of indigestion is repeated from day to day it finally resolves itself into dyspepsia.

Chronic dyspepsia will surely make the happiest life a hell on earth.

Remember that three to ten of Brandreth's Pills will cure the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia, or both, and that a regular course of them, say two every night for a week or ten days, will set as a preventive of either complaint.

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good, if you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest or Lungs. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to relieve, or money will be paid back. WHERE TO GO.

The Following Business Places Are the Very Best in Town.

If you want boots, shoes, or any kind of foot gear, or one of the most stylish suits of clothes that was ever put together, go to John Sunderland's where you can get as large a stock as any Chicago house keeps on exhibition to select from.

If it is jewelry you are looking for an inspection of Richard Herz's stock will convince any one that his is the place to make your purchase, if you look at style and low price. His show windows and cases are a marvel of beauty and will make any one's eyes water to look at. Go there if you want first-class goods cheaper than dirt.

For anything in the dress goods line you don't want to fail to call at the PALACE DRY GOODS HOUSE. For that enterprising firm carries all the novelties of the season and will make the largest display of any house in town, and while you are doing your fall shopping you will miss it if you miss seeing them.

If you want to look stylish and get a good suit of clothes that will do you first-class service, send in your order or go to

S. JACOBSON & CO.

As soon as you get in town and select the cloth yourself from a very large assortment of Fall and Winter goods and have one made. You can buy a suit made to order about as cheap as a "hand me down" ready made suit.

If you smoke, and you most all do, by calling at

MARCUS FREDRICKS'

On Commercial Row you can buy as fine an Havana as can be bought on the coast, or anything else in the line of smokers' goods for just one half what you will pay at other places. And if your watch needs repairing, just leave it with Marcus for a day or two and he will fix it as good as new. Fredricks is also the city agent for the EXAMINE GAZETTE and will have them on sale during Fair week, or you can leave your order with him and have it left to any address in the city.

F. LEVY & SONS.

Are in the field this fall with a larger stock of dry goods and cloaks than ever before opened in this city and will treat you well and take pleasure in showing you goods of every kind, character or description.

If cholera morbus overtakes you while visiting the Fair, or you want to leave your family at home, but well supplied with medicine, just send your order to Wm. Pinniger for what you want and you will be sure of getting fresh drugs, and if you bring the little ones to the Fair be sure and take them there for a drink of his ice cold soda water. A call at the

PIONEER CLOTHING STORE.

Kept by that old War-horse, M. Nathan, assisted by the gentlemanly Louis Cohn, will convince you of the quality of goods carried. This well-known house was established in 1868, and what need be said, it has stood as solid as a rock all through the many fires that have visited the town, and is to-day as substantial as ever. Mr. Nathan is a business man and understands the needs of this part of Nevada as well as the next one and carries as fine a stock as can be found on the coast. Give him a call.

S. EMRICH.

Has as complete a dry goods stock as any firm in town, and you go there with the cash and you can beat San Francisco prices all to pieces. The reason is plain: He buys direct from the manufacturer and he does not have to pay a profit to "middle men." His stock is complete, rich and elegant, and if you can't find what you want there is no one looking anywhere on the coast. If you have a rush of company don't stew and fret yourself to death about "what to get," but just send down to the

PIONEER BAKERY.

And order what you want. Before the Fair commences it might be well to get

S. C. BROWN.

To retouch your skin, so that your place of business will look neat. To be handy to the business center and in the whirl of excitement you want to stop at the

PALACE HOTEL.

At the corner of Commercial Row and Center street, where you can get as good accommodations as anywhere in town, and be supplied with the best in the market.

JACK GODFREY.

Keeps the Palace Restaurant and his tables are second to none in the city. Mr. Godfrey is an old caterer to public wants and is too well known in the State to require any introduction to the people, for if he lets it be known where he is doing business the traveling public sure to find him.

Jay Gould Saw Wheat.

On Jay Gould's return from his western trip, to New York, he said among other things to a reporter: "What most impressed me were the great crops," he said. "It would amount to an Eastern farmer to see the mammoth farms of Dakota and other northwestern States. For hundreds of miles on the Northern Pacific we ran through wheat fields where the stalks reached as high as the top of my car. There is no doubt that the wheat and corn crops will be the largest ever raised in this country, and will add enormously to the general wealth and prosperity of all classes."

Blaine's Appearance.

A gentleman who arrived in New York on the 6th inst. said: "I have just arrived from Bar Harbor this evening, and I have seen Secretary Blaine quite frequently while I have been there. He drove out every day and quite frequently he can be seen walking with Dr. Taylor, his physician. He looks very good for a man who has gone through as much as he has."

Postoffice Hours.

On and after Wednesday, September 16th, the delivery window at the Reno, Nevada, postoffice will be open from 8 o'clock a. m. until 6 o'clock p. m. H. P. KRAV, Postmaster.

"THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET."

It Has Disappeared, but the Famous Old Well Still Flourishes.

The well from whose perennial springs Samuel Woodworth's "Old Oaken Bucket" gathered its moss flows from the bosom of one of those large but gently rising and luxuriant hills which undulate the surface of the ancient town of Scituate, on the old colony coast of Massachusetts.

On the eastern brow of this pleasant highland is his "father's plantation," which in the vernal season appears to encircle it like an emerald diadem. We can best attempt a brief description of the natural scenery from which he drew the imagery of his poem by following in his footsteps through the haunts of his childhood. One can see at this day the same "widespread meadows" which composed the valley of the North river and its tributaries, says the Boston Transcript. To the right is the "orchard," beyond is the "deep tangled wildwood," to the left is the "pond" and the "bridge" where the "cataract fell," the "mill" and "mill that stood by it," which was called in 1633 "the old mill," and was mentioned in 1640. King Philip tried to burn this mill in 1676, and after a sanguinary encounter was driven away. The pond is fed by a romantic brook, which was a favorite place of resort of young Woodworth. There is no place in New England that excels the poet's neighborhood in historic matter. The farm is owned by Henry Northey, a descendant of John Northey, who settled on the farm in 1675. The well is visited by many people, who drink from the crystal fountain and pass the bucket from one to another.

A SNAKE STORY.

That Seems Illuminated With Jersey Lightning.

This is a New Jersey snake story and appeals forcibly to the imagination. A New York journal says:

A hoop-snake chased architect Rufus B. Van Idersdine down Orange mountain, in New Jersey. It was twelve feet long, had a big head and a barbed stinger on its tail half a foot long. It started after Rufus, and he took to his heels when he saw the monster move down the rocks. He got half a mile start, but looking back at a bend of the road he saw the snake grasp its tail in its mouth, forming a hoop, that swiftly rolled after him. The hoop-snake came on with electric speed. When the frightened creature was within a hundred yards of him, Van Idersdine dashed behind a big oak. The hoop-snake swayed and coming on in blind rage, drove his spear-like tail into the tree.

It was trapped. Rufus hurried to Orange for help to return and destroy the monster. Two hours later half a dozen men, with shotguns, ascended the mountain. The hoop-snake was gone. It had pulled its tail out of the hollow, horny stinger, which was left buried in the tree. It was so deeply imbedded that only chips from its edges could be broken off.

GRASSHOPPERS.

Antelope Valley Full of the Little Pest.

F. Lemmon tells the GAZETTE that Antelope Valley is full of grasshoppers, depositing their seeds, and he anticipates much trouble from the little pest in two or three years. It would be well to burn over the ground and try and rid the country of the pest, for with one million tugging at the bowels of the earth, packing every spare dollar they yield out of the State, the railroad sweeping the face of the earth clean and the grasshopper tugging at hay and grain crops, it might be the means of breaking our back. The State has about all she can conveniently pack now and another source of parasites might wind up our little ball of yarn.

AN IMPUDENT HOBBO.

Soundly Thrashed by a Plucky Conductor.

As train No. 6 was pulling out of the Reno yard this morning, conductor Hugh Miller stepped on to his caboose and found a hobbo engaged in a game of fisticuffs with his brakeman, Willie Biggs. Miller shut off the air and stopped the train, when the hobbo jumped off and started on a rapid run up North Virginia street. Miller lit up after him and at the Grand Central hotel caught the hobbo and proceeded to give him a good thrashing, which he did in good style and then returned to his train and started west on time with the variation in his favor.

Precaire Before Leaving Home.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of last May, while in Des Moines, en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for years, and knowing its reliability, he procured a 25 cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. For sale by J. B. McCullough.

What is the difference between this O and a buzz-saw? One is the circle you see, and the other's a circular saw.

The family carriage of the late George Tufts was sold at auction on Wednesday. It brought $285, and cost originally $1,800.

Farewell, ye summer girl, farewell; may Time strew roses in your way; don't quite forget the city beaux who flirted with you for a day.

At 9 o'clock a. m. to-day the thermometer was settled severely at 58 degrees, as though it had retired from active efforts for the season.

Try Alturas roller flour and you won't use any other. It is cheaper, too, than any other brand to be had in the market and every bit as good.

"I wonder how a ship can hug the shore," said Amy to Mabel. With its yard arms, of course, you silly. Buy your cigars from Marcus Fredricks.

Would it not be well for the water company to take care of the boulders they left on the corner of Virginia street and Commercial Row when they filled in their ditch.

Editor—H'm! Well, there's no use talking any longer; I can't use your matter. Bostonian Bard (with heavenward-raised eyes) Oh, that the ethereal effusions of my intellect should be termed "matter."

Boils and pimples and other affections arising from impure blood may appear at this season, when the blood is heated. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes the cause of the troubles by purifying, vitalizing, and enriching the blood, and at the same time gives strength to the whole system.

MADE HIS MONEY HERE.

On the Pacific Coast and Gives It in Charity Quite Liberally.

A New York journal of the 6th inst. says of our Pacific Coast capitalist as follows: Millionaire and philanthropist Darius O. Mills quietly celebrated his sixty-sixth anniversary yesterday. The money-making career of Mr. Mills reads like a romance. He was born in the obscure little village of Salem, in the upper part of New York; his father being a comparatively poor man. Mr. Mills was one of the first in the East to catch the gold fever, and he made the first journey across the plains to California in the early part of 1848. Instead of going directly to the mines, he went to Sacramento and established a small banking place there. Mr. Mills has been a money-maker all his life, and his fortune now is estimated at between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000. He has always been a liberal giver in the cause of charity. His most notable gift was the sum of $100,000, which he gave to Bellevue Hospital for the establishment and maintenance of a free dispensary for the poor. He also gave $75,000 to the University of California. It is said that he gives away $50,000 every year.

A BEAUTIFUL SIGHT.

Donner Basin a Sea of Sun Tipped Clouds.

As the train came out of the Summit tunnel this morning the passengers looked down into the Donner basin, but instead of seeing a lovely lake they found a mass of clouds as white as milk, about half filling the depression. The sun shone brightly across it and in spots the broken and tumbled surface of fog reflected the colors of the rainbow. On higher places the tops of trees peeped through and in others showed in the indistinct outlines through the mist. It made an indescribable ground and beautiful picture, giving an impression of distance and breadth, which Donner does not show usually. The bright rays of the sun gave a substantial dip to the clouds below and added to the clear white of their surface. As the train rolled down the mountain side it became partially enveloped in the clouds, but the lake remained invisible.

A Word to Ladies.

Ladies who desire a beautiful clear skin, free from pimples, boils, blotches and other eruptions, should commence at once to use Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. They will also remove that heavy look about your eyes and make them bright, and will cure headache from whatever cause it arises. Remember you are only required to take one small pill at bed time, which is below and added to the clear white of their surface. As the train rolled down the mountain side it became partially enveloped in the clouds, but the lake remained invisible.

Death of W. O. Mills.

News was received here last night of the death of Colonel Wm. O. Mills at Cortez. The death occurred at 11 o'clock yesterday, and a casket was telegraphed for, which was sent out from here last night on the overland train. He was a nephew of D. O. Mills, and his wife was the daughter of Simeon Wenban, the Cortez mining millionaire. He left a wife and two children, the last one having been born in Reno about two years ago. The body will be sent to California for burial and will probably pass here to-night.

Shakers of All Creeds and Kinds.

Are to be found in every locality visited by chills and fever. The very animals exhibit in such plague feated regions symptoms of the dire infection. If experience has proved, in the domain of medicine, anything conclusively, it is that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will not eradicate from the system any vestige of the miasma-borne complaint, but effectually deadens residents and temporary sojourners in malarial scourged localities against it. There is a general consensus of opinion among medical men, no less than in the minds of the public on this point. Not only on this continent, but in the tropics where malarial complaints assume their most virulent type, this incomparable medical safeguard is universally admitted and called. Dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, debility and kidney trouble are all thoroughly remedied by the Bitters.
